

LECTURE

---

Women in Science

---

Speaker: Mrs. Bente KNOLL

When: March 20, 2006 at 6 pm.

Where: Afro-Asian Institute Vienna
1090, Türkenstraße 3

- Which obstacles face women in science and research (especially in natural and technical sciences)?
- Which coping strategies are used by women to be accepted as a scientist in a male dominated area?
- Comparison of the situation of female scientists in different countries

Mrs. Bente KNOLL studied at the University of Natural Resources and Applied Life Sciences. She runs a Consulting office for Landscape Planning and Management Consultancy (engaged in gender issues, diversity management and gender mainstreaming concerning landscape, urban and regional planning, environmental consulting, sustainability and technical science) and lectures in the field of gender and science at the University of Technology (Vienna) and the University of Vienna. Since 2004 PhD at the Vienna University of Technology, Department of Transport Planning and Traffic Engineering, title "The Gender Perspective and Mobility"

Please register until March 15, 2006 at elke.stinnig@oead.ac.at

